Nearly 40 percent increase in calls after rollout of 988 suicide and crisis hotline in Houston

Suicide prevention: The unsuspecting demographic that's at-risk

Sept. 6, 2022 – KPRC

The Harris Center for Mental Health, which houses the call center covering Southeast Texas, said calls have spiked 38 percent in the first six weeks of its launch. This is compared to calls during the same time last year to the 1-800 suicide prevention number — the main crisis hotline before this summer.

September is Recovery Month

Recovery Month celebrates the gains made by those in recovery from substance use and mental health, just as we celebrate improvements made by those who are managing other health conditions such as hypertension, diabetes, asthma, and heart disease. The Harris Center's MH Projects Department, Adult Mental Health clinics and YES Waiver are participating in the celebration.

The theme is "Every Person. Every Family. Every Community." The Harris Center's MH Projects Department, Adult Mental Health clinics and YES Waiver are participating in the celebration. The programs will be providing information and promotional materials to the people we serve and their families promoting recovery of substance use and mental health.

The Recovery Month promotional materials will remind people in recovery and those who support them, that recovery belongs to all of us, and is always person-first. It will also educate others about recovery from mental health, substance use, and co-occurring disorders, the effectiveness of treatment and recovery support services, and that recovery is possible. By asserting that "Recovery is for Everyone," it will reduce the stigma surrounding people with substance use or mental health disorders.
